WELCOME TO HARRISON COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA!

The heart of north central West Virginia region, Harrison County is a great place to do business, to work and to live. Harrison County boasts a thriving economy along and around the intersection of Interstate 79 and Route 50. From the FBI Criminal Justice Information Services Division, to the developments at Charles Pointe and White Oaks, to United Hospital Center and Highland-Clarksburg Hospital, to the growth in natural gas businesses and the thriving aerospace industry at the NCWV Airport —Harrison County is bustling with economic development.

Educational opportunities for young and old abound as Harrison County is the home of Salem University, Fairmont State University's Caperton Center, and Pierpont Community & Technical College's Robert C. Byrd National Aerospace Education Center. There are a number of highly recognized technical and trade schools including the WV Junior College, United Technical Center, and Clarksburg Beauty Academy. In addition the Harrison County Schools and their students are recognized for outstanding performance and numerous achievements. Private schools offer additional opportunities in Christian education.

Harrison County offers a rich history of culture and arts. The recently renovated Robinson Grand Performing Arts Center has provided a modern venue in an historic theater and has hosted a variety of performances in multiple genres of entertainment. History and heritage are also celebrated through a number of community festivals each year including the Italian Heritage, Scottish Heritage, Black Heritage and Greek Food Festivals.

Welcome home to Harrison County, West Virginia.

COMMUNITY

Scattered throughout Harrison County are communities ranging from the largest, Clarksburg, which is the seat of county government, to several smaller municipalities and unincorporated towns. These towns, along with the rural areas which connect them, are home to nearly 67,721 residents.

COMMUNITY

Originally called River Port, this is home to more than 871 residents. It became Lumberport from the fact that logs were floated on rafts to Pittsburgh. Today, the very important Harrison Power Station, which provides electricity to much of the northeast, is located between Lumberport and Shinnston.

This town of more than 761 is home to crafters. Its popular volunteer fire station is the site for many community activities.

Proud to call Salem home, 1,567 residents enjoy a variety of businesses and services in this university town that draws crowds to its Apple Butter Festival and to Fort New Salem, representative of early log settlements.

SALEM

The Town of Nutter Fort received its name from the Nutter family, who were of Scotch-English descent. Incorporated in 1923, Nutter Fort is now home to over 1,600 residents. There is a large park located near the southern end of town with several lighted baseball and soccer fields, basketball and tennis courts pavilions, playground equipment and a walking trail. There are six churches located within the community and the town is home to the West Virginia Blackberry Festival. The town has round the clock police protection and volunteer fire department. The town provides water, sewer and garbage service for the community.

Founded in 1818, this quiet, friendly residential town of 651 citizens is one of the oldest towns in the county. Located one mile from South Harrison High School, West Milford has an excellent grade school located within the community.

LUMBERPORT
ANMOORE

Established in 1778, the City of Shinnston combines a proud history, a solid present, and an exciting future to Harrison County. Shinnston's 2,178 residents enjoy many of the recreational and educational opportunities found in large cities but with safety and affordability of a small town making it a perfect place to grow.

The hillsides of this "Mountain-er Country" offer a beautiful seasonal backdrop where history meets "high tech." As the largest city and County seat of Harrison County, it offers citizens a rich mix of retail, industrial, professional and governmental services and one of the best preserved historical downtowns in the State.

NUTTER FORT
STONEWOOD
LOST CREEK

More than 467 people choose the pretty town of Lost Creek for their homes. Its location along Interstate 79 makes it an easy commute to the business and industrial sites nearby. The town is named for an early settler who lost his life by the creek that runs through the area.

BRIDGEPORT

As a small town, Bridgeport provides a vignette of the American Economy. Its history is a story of steady advancement, beautiful homes, great city services, the finest of schools, and unequalled recreational facilities. Located at the intersection of US Route 50 east and west, and Interstate 79 north and south, coupled with the recent expansion at Charles Pointe and White Oaks, makes the city a choice location for new businesses, small industries, supply and retail businesses.

City of Stonewood (population 1,772) residents enjoy three parks with playgrounds, tennis courts, horseshoe pitching courts and basketball courts. A small town community atmosphere within minutes of Clarksburg, the county seat, major shopping, medical and all of the services necessary for convenient living.

HEALTHCARE

WVU MEDICINE - UNITED HOSPITAL CENTER

Extensive health care services are available in Harrison County anchored by United Hospital Center (UHC), one of the largest hospitals in the state. Established in 1970 as the result of a merger between St. Mary's and Union Protestant hospitals, UHC serves as a regional referral center providing comprehensive services to a 14 county area with a population of almost 300,000.

The private, not-for-profit hospital has 292 beds and an active medical staff of more than 380 physicians, advance practice providers, and allied health professionals; with more than 2,500 employees and 38 specialties to patients needing care. More importantly, UHC delivers the latest state-of-the-art medical care to residents living in the heart of West Virginia and promises to keep up with the pace of medical advances well into the future.

High tech medicine available at UHC is highlighted by the Cecil B. Highland, Jr. & Barbara B. Highland Cancer Center, the J. Cecil and Rebecca Jarvis Women and Children's Center, the Cornwell Critical Care unit, the Keeley Women's Imaging Center, the Bruce Carter United Orthopaedic and Spine Center, robotic surgery, and an on-site PET/CT capability in collaboration with the Louis A. Johnson Veterans Administration Healthcare System.

UHC offers a refreshing, "soft touch" patient experience to the region. It is a patient-centered design that not only includes the patient but also the family, staff, and community as well—which results in enhanced patient privacy, a high level of technology integration and improved access to care.

VETERAN'S SERVICES

The Louis A. Johnson VA Medical Center (LAJVAMC) serves the Veteran population of approximately 70,000 in North Central West Virginia and adjacent counties in Maryland, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. In addition, the LAJVAMC operates four Community Based Outpatient Clinics (CBOCs) in Gassaway, Parsons, Parkersburg, and Westover, West Virginia.

Inpatient medicine, surgery, psychiatry and transitional care are offered at the 100-bed facility, as well as residential rehabilitation programs for substance abuse and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

A variety of outpatient clinics are supported by the availability of ancillary and diagnostic services including CT, EKG, laboratory, nuclear medicine, pharmacy, radiology, respiratory therapy and ultrasound. Community and non-institutional care services include Contract Nursing Home, Homemaker/Home Health Aide, Adult Day Care, Residential Care, Respite, and Care Coordination/Home Tele-health programs.

Over 60 residents/fellows from various affiliates rotate through the LAJVAMC in a typical year. Major affiliations include West Virginia University Schools of Medicine and Dentistry located in Morgantown, West Virginia and UHC Family Medicine Program. Allied health affiliates are also maintained with multiple areas of accredited programs.

Adjacent to the LAJVAMC is the West Virginia Veterans Nursing Home, the first Veterans' nursing home building in West Virginia. The 120-bed facility includes 30 beds designated for Alzheimer patients.

HIGHLAND-CLARKSBURG HOSPITAL

Highland-Clarksburg Hospital is a not for profit psychiatric hospital located in Clarksburg, WV. The hospital provides services for acutely mentally ill patients. Services are provided 24 hours a day on an on-going basis. The goal of treatment is to stabilize the patient and assist in their return to the community. Highland-Clarksburg Hospital strives to provide the highest quality mental and behavioral health care services to children, adolescents and adults through positive, supportive and caring programs within a safe environment.

The Child and Adolescent programs provides intensive inpatient care for youth ages 5-17. Services provided are guided by a master treatment plan developed by a multidisciplinary team of mental health professionals. Treatment modalities include: group therapy, family therapy, individual therapy as needed or requested, art and activity therapy and educational assistance as needed. Active family participation is very important during the hospitalization and each patient's family or guardian is urged and expected to participate. Family therapy is scheduled weekly.

The hospital also serves youth (Ages 11-17) who have a current Intellectual or Developmental Disability diagnosis. Additionally, these patients have a mental health disorder and are experiencing an acute psychiatric crisis. Patients must be able to beneficially engage in group therapy and activities and have IQ of 60 or above.

Forensic psychiatry is the branch of psychiatry that overlaps with the legal system. Patients who suffer with mental illness and have criminal charges against them sometimes end up court-ordered for psychiatric treatment at a forensic psychiatric facility. Highland-Clarksburg Hospital has extended its mission to serve these patients from all over our state. The three forensic units are located in the south tower of the hospital and operate as a secure psychiatric treatment center that can serve up to 55 male patients.

The hospital also features an Adult Dual Diagnosis/Detoxification unit for individuals 18 and older and services to Veterans and their families at the discretion of the Veterans Administration.

URGENT, REHABILITATION AND LONG-TERM CARE

In addition to hospital facilities, there are a number of urgent care centers which provide an alternative to traditional emergency room visits for non-traumatic injuries and illnesses. Most of these centers offer convenient evening and weekend hours, routine lab testing, treatments and prescriptions.

HealthSouth at Bridgeport offers rehabilitation services to inpatients as part of the United Hospital Center campus. Long-term care is available through several facilities providing services to elderly and disabled residents. ■

EDUCATION

As the seventh largest school district in the state, Harrison County Schools offers its nearly 11,000 students the finest in educational programming through an innovative and well-planned curriculum that prepares each student for a productive pathway beyond high school.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Harrison County School District, a premier educational system in north central West Virginia, is dedicated to meeting the needs of students at each development level. We believe critical thinking, problem solving, communication skills, global awareness, and technology are paramount in each student's education. We are proud of our modern, well-maintained facilities and the nearly 1,500 professional and support personnel who are dedicated to the success of each child.

Excellence in education is evidenced in the academic accomplishments of our students. Five year trend data for ACT scores regularly places Harrison County Schools above the State's average Composite Score. The SAT, administered to all 11th grade students free of charge in the Spring 2018, showed significant academic gains as well. PROMISE Scholarships are increasingly awarded to our students who have maintained a 3.0 overall GPA and a 22 ACT composite or 1100 SAT total score with a minimum of 510 in math and 540 in evidence-based reading and writing. Growth in the number of Career and Technical Education programs and students who earn workforce credentials has steadily increased at all high schools. The district offers a diverse listing of Advanced Placement courses, and there are substantial dual credit courses available in every subject area for students in grades 9-12 through partnerships with West Virginia University, Fairmont State University, Marshall University, and Pierpont Community & Technical College. The district's overall attendance rate is 94% among the 24 schools. Our graduate rate is 89.81, and the West Virginia Department of Education has routinely honored several of our high schools for a 90% or higher graduation rate. Attendance, academic support, student engagement, mentoring, parent involvement, and transitioning programs at our schools support the future citizens of the world on a daily basis.

A district-wide roll out of iPads for each student, grades 6-12, has enhanced the modern technologies already available in our schools. Computer labs, STEAM centers, and experiential learning stations are some of the spaces that help our students thrive. Nine of our schools have earned the distinction of West Virginia School of Excellence while four schools are Blue Ribbon Schools. Students in grades K-12 participate in numerous local contests, fairs, and festivals hosted by the district, including social studies and science fairs, spelling bee, oration contests, Youth and Government, Young Writer's Contest, College and Career Fair for 8th and 9th through 12th graders, Battle of the Books, and math field day. Numerous school-sponsored teams compete in chess, Quiz Bowl, robotics, and coding competitions at the regional and state levels.

Since 1955, Harrison County citizens have supported their schools by passing excess levies to provide textbooks, technology tools, instructional equipment and supplies, award-winning music and theater programs, and other services. All county schools have multiple partnerships with businesses and industries that encourage support for education and offer opportunities to students. Such community support strengthens schools and aids Harrison County Schools in achieving its vision to provide learning opportunities in an environment that allows all individuals to grow to their greatest potential. Among our many unique support programs, Harrison County Schools collaborates with Healthy Harrison to provide fitness and nutrition programs to our students and employees. Also, the Healthy Grandfamilies program offers educational supports to school-aged children who are being raised by grandparents.

In recent years, the district has seen the building of a new Lumberport Elementary, Lincoln Middle, and Johnson Elementary schools. A countywide planning committee of parents, business leaders, and educational professionals develop the Harrison County Comprehensive Educational Facilities Plan in order to prioritize projects. The district also constructs and installs energy-related upgrades at facilities throughout the county.

The mission of Harrison County Schools is to achieve excellence in education, through partnership with home and community, so that each student becomes a life-long learner, a responsible citizen, and a productive member of society.

CORE BELIEFS

- Create positive learning environments
- Advance innovative technologies
- Maximize student achievement
- Promote family, community, and school partnerships

EARLY CHILDHOOD/ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

The curriculum for children in the county's thirteen elementary schools is dynamic and activity oriented, expanding capabilities and directing imaginations toward a lifetime of learning.

Preschool through fifth grade children attend school in well-equipped classrooms, many of which include innovative components to foster student-centered instruction such as project-based and experiential learning, Google Hour, and innovation labs.

Our elementary programs offer federally funded Title I remedial instruction and after school programs at eligible schools. They provide student support services through parent volunteers, tutoring, Read-Aloud volunteers, college interns, as well as a Foster Grandparent Program and Healthy Grandfami-

MIDDLE SCHOOLS

The curriculum for grades 6-8 in Harrison County's five middle schools eases the transition from elementary to high school with the sound academic foundation needed to meet the high expectations in secondary schools. Harrison County's middle schools incorporate opportunities for success for all students as they are asked to think critically, lead a healthy life, behave ethically, work productively, and assume the increasing responsibilities of citizenship.

Middle schools address the special developmental needs of pre-adolescence. Site-based management allows teams to be responsible for student performance and leadership opportunities and for designing and coordinating school programs and events.

Band, vocal, and string music programs, and visual arts classes, expose students to opportunities to perform, as well as visual to acquire a lifelong enjoyment of the arts. Sports, clubs, academic competitions, and career days encourage students to pursue individual interests. After school programs provide a safe environment for studying, tutoring, and socializing.

HIGH SCHOOLS

Harrison County's five fully accredited high schools offer programs that permit numerous options that provide high academic expectations. A variety of career and technical education classes are offered at each high school, and students may attend United Technical Center, located within Harrison County. United Technical Center offers programs such as masonry, welding, small engine repair, and hospitality careers, medical technology, and various other technical programs. As we look at the profile of a Harrison County Schools graduate, it is our goal that each student will leave with a CTE certification or possess the necessary skills and passion to explore post-secondary education at a two or four year institution. Students who would benefit from a smaller, more structured school environment may attend half day or full day schedule at United High School.

The state mandated curriculum drives the secondary program. Individual schools may develop courses to meet the interests and needs of their students. Possibilities for participation in athletics cover the entire spectrum of team and individual sports, and students compete successfully in regional and state events in a variety of student-athletics programs. Virtual education and distance learning classes are also offered throughout the district. For more information about Harrison County Schools, visit the web site at www.harcoboe.net. You may also follow the district on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Harrison County's Private Schools offer quality Christian education. Catholic education is offered beginning with preschool at Madonna Center and continuing with Saint Mary's Grade School and Notre Dame High School with its tradition of academic excellence, supplemented by extracurricular activities and athletic programs.

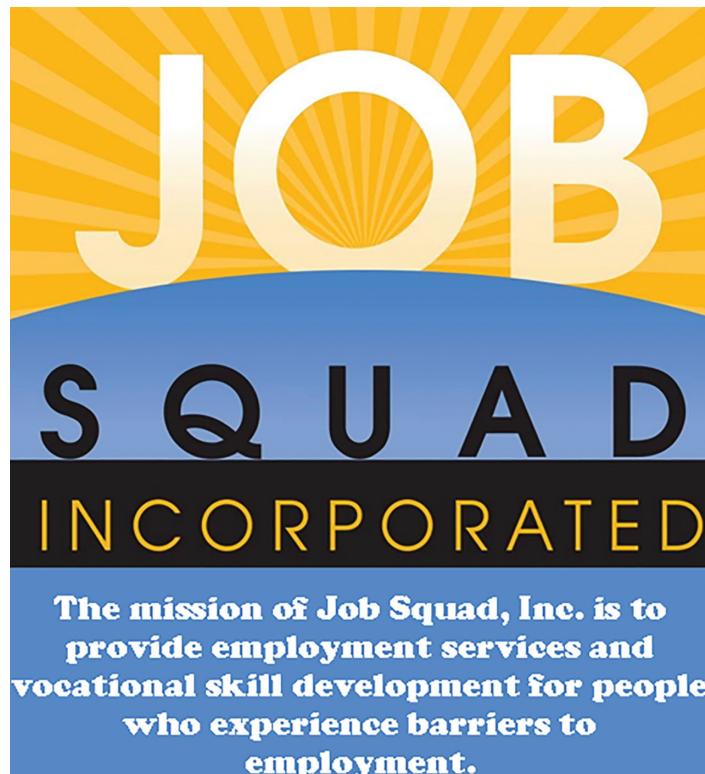

St. Mary's Grade School and Notre Dame High School address not only the academic, but also the spiritual, moral, and emotional needs of its students. St. Mary's Grade School offers 3-year old pre-school, 4-year old pre-Kindergarten through grade 6. St. Mary's provides a quality after-school program for students whose parents have to work late. The goal is to have graduates who are well prepared for life. The mission of Harrison County Catholic Schools is to educate our students in Faith, Knowledge, and Service.

Students at Notre Dame High School attend grades 7 – 12. Notre Dame educates the total person, carrying out its ministry through development of character, integrity, and personal conscience. Notre Dame offers various high school sports including baseball, football, golf, tennis, swimming, baseball, cheerleading, softball, track and soccer.

Emmanuel Christian School in Clarksburg and Heritage Christian School in Bridgeport offer additional choices; both schools report standardized test scores above the national average.

At Emmanuel Christian the process begins with an excellent kindergarten program that gives children the foundations for future academic success. The elementary school program challenges the students in the areas of reading, math, language arts, history, science, and Bible.

The high school program challenges students and provides them a solid grounding in the basics to prepare them for college. ECS graduates are equipped to enter both Christian and secular colleges and universities, as well as chosen vocational fields. A large percentage of graduates have gone on to college in West Virginia and many other states, many receiving scholarships based on their academic achievements while at ECS.

Heritage Christian School offers a quality liberal arts education for students from the four-county areas. Included is a licensed preschool for three- and four- year olds, kindergarten, elementary and middle school programming with physical education, computer literacy, music, band and art complementing traditional course work. Teachers communicate closely with parents as together they foster spiritual, academic and relational growth in an environment that emulates family values. Students are admitted through an application process including pastor and school recommendations.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

Harrison County is home to several technical schools, including United Technical Center. This state School of Excellence reflects the cooperative efforts between schools, business/industry, and the community to prepare students for entry into the global market by offering further education and training.

United Technical Center

Route 3, Box 43-C
Clarksburg
304-326-7580

This public, multi-county technical school, located on Route 19 north of Clarksburg, is open to high school juniors and seniors. Adults who have a high school diploma, a GED or who are working toward GED may also apply for the day and/or evening programs. A Licensed Practical Nursing program is available to qualified adults. This program is highly recognized in the state because of its completion and job placement rates. The mission of UTC is to provide technical related instruction which allows all students to achieve their highest potential and meet the ever-changing needs of business, industry and community. Our program offerings are relevant to the current job market. Many of the programs offer state and national certification. Articulation and coordination from post-secondary schools are available to students who wish to pursue higher education.

A state-of-the art facility dedicated to aerospace education, is located in the Mid-Atlantic Aerospace Complex. The NAEC offers degrees in aviation maintenance, aviation administration and a flight program. The center recently added a new level 6 flight simulator and is implementing the state's only multi-engine training program. There is only one other simulator like it in the U.S. The simulator features a full glass cockpit and the ability to change between any one of 17 different flight platforms. The addition of this simulator will allow Pierpont C&TC to enhance every student's learning experiences. The simulator will allow for hands-on application without the risks involved with a traditional flight. The NAEC operates five Cessna 172 Skyhawk basic trainers, a Cessna 172 RG complex trainer and a twin Beechcraft Duchess.

Pierpont Community and Technical College - Part 147 offering 2-year degrees

www.pierpont.edu/ac/programs/aviation-maintenance-technology

The Aviation Maintenance Technology A.A.S. Degree provides training in aircraft technology. Students will learn to perform maintenance, remove & replace components, troubleshoot, and repair aircraft systems. They will also learn to develop plans to analyze and develop solutions for aircraft problems using approved maintenance materials.

This program focuses on the areas of knowledge required to be qualified to take the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Part 147 tests. It prepares graduates to successfully complete the three written tests required by the FAA. After successful completion of the written exams, the graduate will complete an Oral & Practical exam that will qualify them for an FAA Airframe and Power Plant (A & P) Certificate that is good for life. The technical areas of study focus on the mechanical aspects of aircraft airframes, power plants, and all supporting aircraft subsystems. Students will learn to work on a wide range of aircraft, from small general aviation aircraft to transport category aircraft.

www.pwc.ca/en/service-support/pratt-whitney-engine-services-inc

A wholly-owned subsidiary of the aerospace giant United Technologies Corporation, Pratt & Whitney Engine Services, Inc. (PWES) has provided support to Pratt & Whitney Canada (P&WC) engine operators at its Bridgeport, West Virginia facility since 1971. Recognized for its quality products, remarkable service and community spirit, the company has been a “Corporate Engine Center of Excellence” for turboprop and turbofan P&WC engines since 1995. PWES is proud to be known as a charter member of the Mid-Atlantic Aerospace Complex. They provide engine overhaul and maintenance for their own engine lines including the PT6, JT15D, PW300 and PW500. PWES has grown through four major expansions to establish the facility as an industry leader for corporate P&WC engine operators. There are two factors that encourage PWES to continue investing in West Virginia—the exceptional quality of workforce within the area and the business-friendly environment. PWES is recognized in the market place as a responsive, quality operation. Pratt & Whitney Engine Services counts all the members of the Mid Atlantic Aerospace Complex as close neighbors and colleagues. The companies share services and cooperate whenever necessary to ensure their respective customers receive unparalleled global maintenance support.

HARRISON COUNTY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

The Harrison County Economic Development Corporation was created in 2015 to be the economic voice and first point of contact for business expansion and recruitment. This private-public partnership was developed to foster economic growth through Harrison County under the direction of and with the support of the existing business community. Their objective is to promote, develop, and advance the business prosperity and economic welfare of Harrison County and North Central WV.

EMPLOYERS

Our two largest employers are FBI CJIS and United Hospital Center - WVU Medicine. It is important to note that over 5000 employees work at these two locations with a percentage of those living within 5 other counties. This speaks volumes for the relaxed commute and other additional opportunities for housing and limited travel time.

Harrison Power Station operated by First Energy, one of the nation's largest, cleanest coal-fired generating plants employing over 230 people and growing.

HARRISON COUNTY POWER STATION

Harrison County will soon be home to an approximately 550 megawatt natural gas fired power plant project that will provide reliable electricity needed to keep West Virginia competitive going into the future. Economic impact from construction will be $880 Million and an overall annual economic impact of $287 Million each year while supporting local business and local natural gas exploration and production. When operating, the plant will provide enough power for approximately 425,000 homes through the PJM interconnect.

WORKFORCE

www.worforcewv.org.

Harrison County has a willing and capable labor force of 31,500 people serving approximately 3000 businesses including the aerospace, healthcare, biometrics, manufacturing, oil & gas, social services, public administration, retail and food services sector. Harrison County currently has 8 business parks that capitalize on the workforce from surrounding counties as well. Harrison County's additional "natural" resource is its able work force with a history of low turnover and minimal absenteeism. These workers are an asset to employers who count a strong work ethic as one reason for the success of their companies.

TRANSPORTATION

In addition to an excellent highway system connecting Harrison County in all directions with the rest of the eastern United States, the North Central WV Airport offers daily flights to Washington, DC. The recent expansion of the runway to 7,000 feet allows it to accommodate up to a 727 aircraft. West Virginia University sports teams and visiting teams use this airport when they travel. CSX

Railroad provides freight service while several motor freight carriers maintain local terminals.

COMMUNICATIONS

With major high-tech development happening in the region, the area sports the infrastructure for high speed internet, teleconferencing, cellular phone service and other options to meet the demands of a competitive business climate. Cable and satellite companies give residents hundreds of options for television viewing, while three newspapers (one daily and two weeklies), three television stations and more than a dozen radio stations provide news, entertainment and advertising opportunities throughout the region.

HARRISON COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Harrison County Chamber of Commerce promotes a vibrant business climate and community by fostering business growth with active and engaged members.

Representing the businesses of Harrison County, West Virginia, since 1919, our Chamber has an aggressive business plan, an outstanding group of volunteers, and remarkable support from the business community. Our community businesses gain exposure at Chamber events, through social and print media opportunities and more.

HARRISON COUNTY ECONOMIC ALLIANCE CORPORATION

The Harrison County Economic Alliance Corporation was created in 2008 from the merger of three

We're big fans of people who look out for people.

Congratulations to the Harrison County Chamber of Commerce on 100 years of service to our community. Hard work doesn't always get the recognition it deserves, so when it makes a community better, we take notice. We appreciate all your efforts, and keep making us stronger.

Member FDIC. ©®, Huntington® and © Huntington Welcome.® are federally registered service marks of Huntington Bancshares Incorporated. ©2019 Huntington Bancshares Incorporated.

100 YEARS AND STILL SHINING BRIGHT

Over the years, it's been our privilege to deliver the energy that has helped make Harrison County a great place for business ... and for living, too. We look forward to keeping the future bright with safe and reliable power. Congratulations Harrison County Chamber on your centennial anniversary.

Are you an employer in one of the following counties?

Barbour, Braxton, Doddridge, Gilmer, Harrison, Lewis, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Randolph, Taylor, Tucker, and Upshur

Do you need to train new and or current employees so your business can remain competitive?

If you answered yes to both of those questions, then there are federal training dollars available through the Region VI Workforce Development Board. These federal funds are designed to help offset your training costs through reimbursement to you of a percentage of the costs of providing training to your employees using one or more of these training programs:

- On-the-Job Training
- Customized Training
- Incumbent Worker Training
- Transitional Training

Contact the Region VI Workforce Development Board

at 304-368-9530 and/or go to the Region VI website at www.regionviwv.org and check out the Employer Services tab.
